Registration

The children choose themselves whether they want to take part from day to day, but the guardian must register the child's and his or her own contact information via www.skeneif.com.

N.B.: It is important that you submit the child's personal ID number in full. If the child has not yet received his or her final four personal ID digits yet, you must indicate this by placing a check in the square upon registration. There are also registration forms on location available for those participants who have not registered in advance.

Attendance Check

Every day at Vävarevallen in Skene.

Once the child is registered, he/she only needs to report his/her attendance to the manager sitting and taking attendance outside of the clubhouse at Vävarevallen. It is very important that all the attendees arrive well in advance and report their attendance each day. We only plan snacks for those participants who have reported in for that day.

Contact

If you need to contact your child during the summer camp hours, please call Skene IF at telephone no. 0320-408 58. If the office is unmanned, your call will be directed to the manager in charge.

Inclement weather

In the event of prolonged rain or lightning, we will need to move the camp indoors. Visit our homepage www.skeneif.com on those days when you are unsure whether the camp will be outdoors or indoors. If we move the camp indoors, the information will be stated on the home page.

Snack

We offer all attendees a snack each day. N.B. - any food allergies must be reported upon taking the attendance check.

Regulations that All Must Follow

- Changing of clothes is done at home.
- All attendees must bring their own water bottles.
- Anyone who is sick must remain at home until he has been completely well for two days.

Conduct

It is also very important that parents talk to their children about being a good friend and that the summer camp does not tolerate any form of alienation. All children get to take part whether they have previous experience in the sport or not. The camp shall be steeped in camaraderie; this is very important. The managers shall pay particular attention to ensure that no child feels left out. The purpose of the camp is for all the children to have fun and to get some exercise.

GDPR – General Data Protection Regulation

Photography and Filming - the attendee's personal information, i.e., photos and films that may be taken in connection with the summer camp, may be used for marketing purposes on the home page and social media in order to present information about the summer camp. If you have any questions or queries, please contact the Skene IF office at tel.: 0320-408 58, kansliet@skeneif.com

Start playing football

If your child is interested in beginning to play football after the summer, please call 0320-408 58, or e-mail kansliet@skeneif.com and we will refer you to the correct youth leader. The child may first come and try it out a few times with the team before the child decides to join. You will find information and contact details for leaders of our children's and youth teams at www.skeneif.com.

Why are we doing this?

The summer break is long: 68 days. That is more than two months that children need to keep busy without their usual school routines. Many associations have a hiatus in their children's and youth activities for large portions of the summer. If the parents are working and there are no friends at home with whom to play, the children often become passive and feel bored, perhaps whiling away the time at video games and such. There are children who have no opportunity at all either to go on vacation or to a camp that costs money.

Skene IF wishes to give children a meaningful and active summer with camaraderie where everyone is welcome regardless of sex, ethnic origin and financial circumstances. We want children to increase their understanding for each other through sport and to find new friends. The family's financial standing will not determine whether a child has an opportunity to take part in summer camp. Every child who wants to shall take part.

Hopefully, some of the children will become interested in sport and join up in the autumn. Team sports offer a child so many positive things, and they can make friends for life. Physical activity early in the life of a child is enormously important and will hopefully lead to a lifelong participation in sports.

You are warmly welcome to Vävarevallen this summer!
