A close-up photograph of a single, irregularly shaped pizza. The crust is thick and golden-brown with several dark, charred spots, particularly along the edges. The top is covered in a vibrant red tomato sauce, which appears to have some melted cheese or a thick consistency. The pizza is resting on a white, rectangular pizza peel with a textured surface. The background is dark and out of focus.

A close-up photograph of a round, thick-crust pizza. The pizza is topped with a thick layer of melted white cheese sauce and some toppings that are not clearly identifiable. It is resting on a metal pizza peel with a perforated surface. The background is dark and out of focus.
